

Notes for Monday, July 22nd, 2019

For ALL:

Happy Monday! We are in our final week of the program! Your goals for the week should include making the most of your internship or finishing strong in your classes! Good luck to all of our academic students as they prepare to take a practice SAT exam tonight. Week four is upon us, so get ready for a week full of activities dedicated to enjoying our last few days together. It's been an awesome few weeks, but it's not over yet!
